

In the Hotel

1. Read the dialogue with a classmate:

- Good afternoon, Madam.
- Hello.
- How may I help you?
- I'd like to book a room for one night. Is it possible?
- Yes, of course! Do you want a single room or a double room?
- Actually, I will stay with my sister. We have a wedding today. So I would like to rent a twin room.
- I'm sorry, we haven't got any twin rooms available at the moment. But we do have a triple room with three single beds.
- Will I pay the price for three people if we are only two?
- Of course not! You will use only two beds, so you'll pay the price we require for a twin room.
- But... Are you sure that, in the middle of the night, I won't get up to go into the third bed?

2. Reading Comprehension:

1. Who are the characters?
2. What does the lady want to do?
3. Is the room she wants available?
4. What is the man's proposal?
5. Does she agree? What does she finally answer?

3. Speaking:

You are in a hotel. Play an improvised dialogue with a classmate. One is the receptionist and the other one is the client. Then exchange roles.
